

SPAIN

Red legged partridges

Season September 1st – April 30th

GENERAL INFORMATION

The area covers over 4.000 hectares of prime ground for partridge. It is situated in the province of Salamanca, just 2 hours from Madrid Airport.. Its particular topography, rolling slopes, scattered with small hills of low bush and oak trees, makes the perfect scenery for driven red legged partridge, with lots of “high birds”. The area is very well known for the quality of the hunts, and due to a very good management, it holds a great population of these fantastic and unique birds.

There are many different drives “cut” in the area, so at least 4 hunting days can be offered in a row without repeating one single drive (four - five drives per day).

Each day, around 50 people are hired for the shoot, including beaters, assistants, loaders (2 per gun), drivers, gamekeepers, etc. According to tradition, no semiautomatic guns are permitted, being a “pair of doubles” the most recommended set of guns. We provide (not included in the price) ammunition of most common calibres (12 and 20 gauge). As mentioned we make four - five drives per day, with a small snack in the field after the second or third drive. The lunch is served at the end of the day in the lodge.

The accommodation take place inside the hunting area in a beautiful lodge . We use double rooms with single occupancy, so there is plenty of space in the room. The population of Salamanca is of 70.000 people, with a good historic background, and very interesting places to visit, thinking on the non-hunting companions. The proximity to Madrid, make one day visits to the Capital of Spain possible, as well as special dinners and shows.
